Created in 1985 by Donald F. Smith, The Mabel Mercer Foundation is a not-for-profit arts organization which perpetuates the memory of its legendary namesake by stimulating and promoting public interest in American song and the art of cabaret. The Foundation works on a daily basis to develop and solidify a community of cabaret artists, producers, and audience members, and sponsors broadcasts by both new and established singers. Now showcased at Frederick P. Rose Hall, Home of Jazz at Lincoln Center, The Foundation's annual Cabaret Convention has – in nineteen years – presented more than twelve hundred performers from around the world to an audience totaling well over one hundred and twenty thousand people. The Cabaret Convention evenings are dedicated to the spirit of Mabel Mercer and the singular art form she epitomized.
